

Belfast-based Replify, the company that pioneered the all-software approach to application acceleration, has appointed Jersey based Softek to distribute the company's Reptor Accelerator Suite in the UK.

Replify's Reptor Accelerator is a software solution for WAN Optimization and offers LAN-like performance over the WAN accelerating business critical applications including Sharepoint, Exchange, IIS, backup and replication tools thus significantly improving productivity and performance.

Mike Bienvenu, Technical Director at Softek said they were very excited to be distributing Replify's Reptor Accelerator suite in the UK. 'We believe Replify's software approach is the most powerful, cost effective application acceleration solution on the market,' he said.
